

MANUALLY ADD LYMM RADIO TO YOUR INTERNET RADIO / STREAMING DEVICE

NAIM UNITI / UNITILITE /ATOM

First, make sure that your Naim unit and computer are using the same network connection. On your computer, go to: <http://naim.vtuner.com> and complete the details requested.

To find the MAC address, make sure your Naim unit is switched on and go here:

Setup > Factory Settings > System Status > MAC

Note: You can register a username and password so that you don't need to enter the details again next time you visit this page.

On the home page, click on the “add station” link and complete the details as follows:

- Station Name: Lymm Radio
- Type: Mp3
- Bitrate: 128
- In the Stream URL box enter: <http://uk2.internet-radio.com:8288/live>

Once you have entered the above details, hit “enter” to store the station details.

Next step: On your Naim unit, go to iRadio and then select “added stations”. Lymm Radio should now show on the list.

To store as a preset – hit the “store” button on the remote control and save in your preferred location.

TUNEIN / HEOS / DENON

Adding a Custom URL is only available from the TuneIn App via a mobile device or tablet. A TuneIn account is also required to be signed-in on the TuneIn App and the HEOS App.

- 1: Open the TuneIn app and (a) go to the “Favorites” tab and then (b) tap the “Add Custom URL” button.
- 2: Enter the custom URL as: <http://uk2.internet-radio.com:8288/live>
- 3: Once entered, the stream should start playing.
- 4: Tap on the “Heart” icon in the upper right hand corner of the TuneIn App and tap on “Favourite Station.”
- 5: Enter LYMM RADIO for the Custom Stream and then tap “OK”
- 6: Open the HEOS App and select (a) the Music tab (b) tap TuneIn and then (c) tap My Favourites.
- 7: Select LYMM RADIO from the list and you'll be connected!
